PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings NYR Members and Friends,

Welcome to the fall issue of our newsletter. The summer has flown by, however I hope you had the opportunity to enjoy the warm weather and take time to unwind during a very active spring while dealing with the impact of covid and continued racial injustices permeating through our black and brown communities.

Over the next few weeks we have a duty to exercise our right to vote. We are in position to have our voices heard at the local, state and national level. Remember to vote and have your voice be heard!

NAHSE, New York Regional Chapter is one of six out of the thirty-one NAHSE chapters to be in compliance with national guidelines. Thank you for your continued support and feedback in making our chapter strong! We remain committed to ADVANCE | DEVELOP | ELEVATE. Please make sure to register for the NAHSE 2020 Virtual Conference Events. Monthly events are scheduled through December 2020.

We welcome our new members and returning members, including our institutional member, NYC Health +Hospitals/Elmhurst.

See you at one of our upcoming programs.

Warmly,
Carle-Marie Memnon, DHA, FACHE

September 2020

Tuesday, September 22: New York Regional held our monthly meeting. The focus was the 2020 Census and its impact on Social Determinants of Health. The program title, "Your Voice, Our Future: How the Census Impacts Social Determinants of Health" was moderated by Raven Brewington, MHA, MPH(c), NYR NAHSE Public Policy and Advocacy Chair and National Northeast and Midwest Public Policy and Advocacy Liaison.

Participants heard from our esteemed panelists from the U.S. Census Bureau, Kendall Johnson, Executive Director and Regional Experts Lisa Moore, Assistant Regional Census Manger, NY Region and Ellisa Johnson, Chicago Regional Director, U.S. Census Bureau. Census Deadline has been extended.

The Census happens every 10 years to count people of all ages. Data is used to help determine the allocation of $675 billion federal funds each year. It helps support education, housing, health programs and much more.

Over the next few days remind 10 people to complete it and ask them to also remind 10 people.

CALL TO ACTION

VOTE, BECAUSE YOU CAN!

The National Association of Health Services Executives (NAHSE) New York Regional Chapter is calling on you to voice your vote. As the premier professional organization for black executives in the healthcare field, we want to support future healthcare leaders by informing voters on their rights. Our members are administrators, practitioners and educators who work in a wide-variety of healthcare organizations. NAHSE participates in local and national programs designed to improve quality, access, and availability of health services, and to expand educational opportunities in the field of health services administration.

Our health is impacted by who we vote in our state and national elections. Help NAHSE amplify the effort and educate voters!

NEW YORK 2020 VOTER REGISTRATION TIMELINE

The first-ever National Black Voter Day will be held on September 18, 2020 to aid Black citizens against suppression tactics and ensure that their vote counts in the various elections taking place in November. In the height of racial injustices, concerns about voter suppression is at an all-time high including fewer poll workers and machines and racial discrimination when voting or participate in politics.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Resources: <https://www.elections.ny.gov/>
